

Have you seen today's date.....?

But seriously, we don't want any more species to go extinct due to human ignorance, greed and irresponsibility. Everything that we do as a society, and as individuals, has an impact on the natural world and we need to be conscious of how our own actions affect the Earth's biodiversity.

Three ideas for how you can make a difference:

1. Choose to buy products with less packaging - millions of tons of plastic waste ends up in the world's oceans and we know this is having a negative effect on marine life.
2. Question your local politician about his/her party's policies on the environment - particularly important in the run up to the coming British election.
3. Start to grow your own fruit and veg, if you have an opportunity. Land use change to agriculture is one of the biggest drivers of species extinctions.
